

Special Schools Are Using...

While some special schools are using An Post to deliver work to students, as this may be deemed more suitable in some cases, other schools have found the following resources to be of benefit for students with Moderate, Severe or Profound General Learning Difficulties:

- NCSE resource document for teachers of children with severe and profound needs

The Sensory Projects was founded by Joanna Grace, a Sensory Engagement and Inclusion Specialist.

“The Sensory Projects run on the principle that with the right knowledge and a little creativity inexpensive items can become effective sensory tools for inclusion.”

There is now a tab on the website dedicated to resources for Covid-19 with many links to resources.
